

CODE OF CONDUCT

Members of SAMCRA shall at all times:

- 1. Uphold the honour, integrity, dignity and good name of SAMCRA together with the reputation of the steel construction industry.
- 2. Promote and advance the objectives of SAMCRA.
- 3. Accept the authority of the Executive Committee of SAMCRA in handling disciplinary measures resulting from a breach of any of the terms of this code of ethics.
- 4. Refrain from speaking on behalf of SAMCRA or making any disclosure of the business or affairs of SAMCRA to the media without prior consent.
- 5. Promptly bring all cases of unethical conduct by other members to the attention of SAMCRA.
- 6. Refrain from causing harm to the reputation or business interests of other members, other than by fair competitive practices.
- 7. Refrain from infringing any patents, copyrights, trademarks, designs or any other intellectual property rights of other parties.
- 8. Obey the laws and regulations of any country or other jurisdiction in which they are operating whilst at the same time observing and upholding ethical business practices.
- 9. Act in the interest of society by ensuring the safety and health of people engaged in or affected by their activities as well as protecting the environment.
- 10. Refrain from offering, accepting or soliciting a bribe or gift for the purpose of procuring business or gaining any other benefit, or engaging in any other corrupt or illegal practice.
- 11. Abstain from participation in any anti-competitive activities.
- 12. Maintain a system to ensure the consistent quality of their workmanship and products.
- 13. Commit themselves to the development of skills for the metal cladding and roofing industry.